Dear Mark

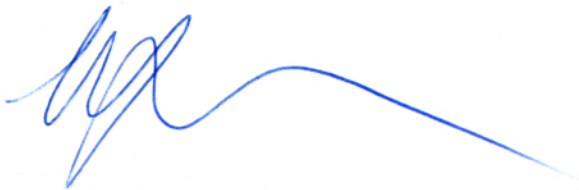

I have to write and offer my congratulations.

Your team of specialists has pulled out all the stops to ensure that my mobile communications do exactly what I want them to do and saved me over 30% while doing so.

Their ability to simplify the technicalities of email and internet 'on the move' was exemplary and my own people are now reaping the benefits of never being out of touch.

Please thank them all personally on my behalf and keep up the good work. I am now confident that communications will never appear on my 'problem list'.

Regards

Development Manager
